

DRVC Elementary Schools

Parent Feedback

Remote Learning

of respondents indicated that they strongly agree or agree with the statement: "My child's school and his/her teacher(s) did a good job of quickly adapting to remote learning after school closures in March."

Numerous members of the Long Island community have commended DRVC schools for "not missing a beat" while ensuring that instruction and connection were not compromised amid unprecedented challenges. This demonstrates the strength, faith, and vision that the teachers and school leaders of the Catholic Elementary Schools on Long Island will carry into a new and bright future.

Teacher Commitment

Both teachers and administrators have gone above and beyond to stay in touch with families and keep students engaged and challenged.

78%

of respondents indicated that they strongly agree or agree with the statement: "This spring, my child's teacher(s) clearly explained the assigned work for my child to follow."

83%

of respondents indicated that they strongly agree or agree with the statement: "This spring, my child's teacher(s) was readily available for questions and assistance on assignments."

Teachers and administration have done an amazing job! They were up and running immediately. They've connected with their students regularly. This public school teacher is proud to send her kids to Catholic school.

Approximately 70%

of respondents indicated that they strongly agree or agree with the statement: "This spring, my Catholic school did a better job of providing remote learning than the other nearby public schools."

During the months of COVID and into the summer, parents have reiterated their gratitude for the hard work of their children's teachers and how lucky they felt to have their child in the DRVC system.

"During these unprecedented times, the benefits of Catholic education have made all the difference..."